

OUR EVOLVING LEARNING LANDSCAPE

Learn from each other

Make Connections

Solve Problems

Share
Ideas

See how to make it work

Something for everyone

Explore

#cesicon

29th Feb 2020
ATHLONE, IRELAND

The 2020 CESI conference will take place at Athlone Institute of Technology on 29th February. The now traditional TeachMeet will take place on Friday evening, 28th February, in the Sheraton Hotel Athlone.

The conference occurs at a very exciting time in Irish education. Leaving Certificate Computer Science students will sit the first ever examination of the subject this year.

Hands-on, Listen, Learn, & Share

Practitioners across Ireland are using technology to enhance learning in unique, innovative, and informed ways. Our annual conference showcases the best of that grassroots network.

Our network spans across all sectors and subject areas in a unique way, and all those interested in teaching with technology will find something for them at #cesicon.

The 2020 conference will showcase the ever evolving practice of Irish educators, and provide an exciting snapshot of this banner year.

Keynotes

We are delighted to have as our conference keynote speakers Cornelia Connolly and Bryan Mathers.

Registration and More

Visit www.cesi.ie for registration. The conference fee is €65 and €30 (student and unwaged). The TeachMeet fee is €15. There is an early bird rate running for a short time.

Our Support

CESI acknowledge the support of Teacher Professional Networks and PDST Technology in Education.